WELCOME AND INTRODUCTIONS

- Remarks from Chair - Welcomed the committee members and set up Zoom standards for voting.
- Remarks from OUCCAS/DASA- Li updated the committee on the different types of labs, these are still under discussion, what the requirement is for laboratories is a minimum expectation, so the need to be at least two.
- Approval of the Minutes from February 26th 2020 – Approved Unanimously
 - Discussion: Member moved to approve by Marta Klesath.

Old Business

- CH 102 General Chemistry Laboratory - Approved Unanimously
Discussion: Member Marta Klesath presented course action. Member complimented the updates and asked if the CIM question “Is this a part of a required or elective for curricula” is needed, Li explained this will be removed with the more courseleaf updates and the field is no longer needed.

NEW BUSINESS

- Consent Agenda - Approved Unanimously
Discussion: Member Marta Klesath moved to approve.
- ANT/IS 471/(571) Understanding Latina Migration- Approved Pending
Discussion: Member Daniel Gruehn presented the new course action. Member brought attention to the topic outline schedule which is in minutes, not weeks, and seems to be short in the topic outline. Members discussed this would be better in a range. Currently the minutes add to 45 50 minutes slots, Li had done previous calculations that the minutes will add up. Members discussed that historically this has been a subject of debate.
Members discussed that for consistency, other actions have been pending adding a 16th week for finals.
Motion to amend the motion to indicate the 46 semester hours of content instead of the 45 hours shown in the topic outline, pending showing 16 weeks, or a percentage.

Suggestion that this be an expectation, and not include that emails will not be responded to.
Motion amended to Pending: Absent member brought attention to the assignments and asked if they are linked in with participation. Members discussed this maybe in the description provided in the syllabus.

Motion to amend the motion to approve pending putting the 16 week topic outline in the CIM record.
Guest Michael Domeracki indicated the percentage is because the assignments built off each other. Member suggested a range in the topic outline to equal 100% or use the 16 weeks indicated in the syllabus.
Suggestion to think of the long term impact of the level of detail in the CIM record, since this would need to go back through the committee if changed.

Memorandum

To: University Courses and Curriculum Committee
From: Dr. Troy Case, Associate Head, Department of Sociology & Anthropology
Re: Revision of Anthropology Major (16ANTHBA_16ANTHGEN) to include two courses on General Electives List
Date: January 24, 2020

1. Statement of Justification

The anthropology program recently discovered that two courses that had been intended to be available to students as general elective courses were not placed on the list. The two courses are newer courses in the curriculum, added to the curriculum after the latest curricular revision in 2012. They are:

ANT 315 The Aztecs, Maya, and Their Predecessors: Archaeology of Mesoamerica
ANT 345 Anthropology of the Middle East

ANT 345 is already an option to satisfy the ethnography requirement for the major. ANT 315 is an archaeology course that examines the peoples and cultures of Mesoamerica from the prehistoric period to colonial times.

2. Proposed Change

Add ANT 315 and ANT 345 to the ANT General Electives (requirement 000019485; 9 Units) list under ANT Elective 300 Level. The new list would read:

ANT 310, ANT 315, ANT 325, ANT 330, ANT 345, ANT 346, ANT 351, ANT 354, ANT 370, ANT 371, ANT 374, ANT 389, ANT 395, FLJ 351

Subject: Revision of the plan for the Minor in History
Date: 2 March 2020

The Department of History seeks approval to revise the Minor in History (16HIM) from 18 credit hours to requiring 15 hours of history.

Justification:

We seek to make completing the Minor more feasible for more students, in the wake of the reduction of free electives in many degree plans with the recent 120-hour rule. Increasing the attractiveness of the minor is one of the action items adopted upon recommendation of the review team for the department's 2017 Self-Study. We have reviewed other programs, comparing our institutional peers and history programs nationwide. Both 18-hour and 15-hour requirements are common among history departments nationally. Among our institutional peers, Michigan State and Purdue require 12 hours, Florida and Georgia Tech require 15 hours, and Maryland and Virginia Tech require 18 hours. Locally, Duke and UNC-CH require 15 hours with no more than 6 hours at introductory level. At NC State, the 18-hour requirement is a relative outlier among programs:

15 hours	79 programs
16 hours	19 programs
17-19 hours	22 programs
≥ 20 hours	4 programs

Within Humanities & Social Sciences, 4 programs out of 43 require 18 hours instead of 15. The new requirement will put the minor more line with most programs at NC State.

In addition, we wish to include History of Art (HA) courses as electives in the Minor.

Current Minor:

Requirements

- Open to any student and is without any prerequisites.
- Completion of 18 hours (6 courses) in History.
- A grade of 'C-' or better in all completed courses used toward the minor.
- A maximum of ONE (1) course may be used (double-counted) towards both departmental major requirements and minor requirements.

Required Courses:

- 6 credit hours HI at 200-level

Elective Courses:

- 6 credit hours HI at 400-level
- 6 credit hours HI at 300-level or above

Proposed Minor:Requirements

- Open to any student and is without any prerequisites.
- Completion of 15 hours (5 courses) in History.
- A grade of 'C-' or better in all completed courses used toward the minor.
- A maximum of ONE (1) course may be used (double-counted) towards both departmental major requirements and minor requirements.
- A maximum of 6 hours of advanced placement credit or transfer credit can be applied towards the minor. The department will determine whether courses which have been transferred from other institutions qualify for the minor.

Required Courses:

- 6 credit hours HA or HI at 200-level

Elective Courses:

- 3 credit hours HA or HI at 400-level
- 6 credit hours HA or HI at 300-level or above

History (16HIM)

Description

The minor in History is flexible in that it can provide depth to a variety of majors by granting a larger historical understanding of a subject. Thus students majoring in political science but with a special interest in the Middle East or Europe can gain a much deeper understanding of how events in the past have shaped present dilemmas. Likewise, those wishing to attend law school can choose from a range of courses in legal history. You can tailor the minor to suit your individual interests. History courses teach not only background, but methods of research, analysis, and writing. No courses for the minor may be taken for S/U credit.

Requirements

- Open to any student and is without any prerequisites.
- Completion of 15 hours (5 courses) in History.
- A grade of 'C-' or better in all completed courses used toward the minor.
- A maximum of ONE (1) course may be used (double-counted) towards both departmental major requirements and minor requirements.
- A maximum of 6 hours of advanced placement credit or transfer credit can be applied towards the minor. The department will determine whether courses which have been transferred from other institutions qualify for the minor.

Required Courses (6 credit hours)

Choose 2 courses (6 credits) in History (HI) or History of Art (HA) at the 200-level.

Elective Courses (9 credit hours)

Choose 1 course (3 credits) in HI or HA at the 400 level.

Choose 2 courses (6 credits) at the 300 level or above.

Admissions

Students may declare their intention to complete the History minor at any time. Students are, however, encouraged to discuss their interests and intentions with the minor advisor early in their college careers. Students will work with an advisor to create a minor plan. Once this plan has been created, students can complete the application form and submit for approval by the Department.

Certification

Dr. Dean Bruno will certify the minor prior to graduation. Paperwork for certification is completed once the student has completed the courses for the minor or at the beginning of the student's final semester, whichever occurs first. Still, students should check with the advisor no later than the pre-registration period for the student's final semester at NC State to make sure they are not missing any courses for the minor.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Office of the Dean of Undergraduate Academic Programs

FROM: Associate Professor Matthew Booker, director, Science, Technology and Society program, Interdisciplinary Studies

SUBJECT: Curricula Action for Revision of 16STSBS

Proposed effective date: Fall 2020

Justification and Proposed Revisions

This curricula action proposes the revision of 16STSBS master plan

Revision of the above plan is justified because it makes the 16STSBS align with new proposed concentrations in the BS degree.

- Removes three credits from free electives in the STS BS
- Adds three credits to the STS Specialty to increase it to 15 credits

Impact on Students

Current students in the major will not be affected by the revision. They can continue under the old curriculum. New students in the major will take the same number of credit hours in the program as before.

Once concentrations are in place, some of the confusion and difficulty associated with the Self Design origins of the major will be reduced for advisors and for students.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Office of the Dean of Undergraduate Academic Programs

FROM: Associate Professor Matthew Booker, director, Science, Technology and Society program, Interdisciplinary Studies

SUBJECT: Curricula Action for Revision of 16STSBA

Proposed effective date: Fall 2020

Justification and Proposed Revisions

This curricula action proposes the revision of 16STSBA master plan

Revision of the above plan is justified because it makes the 16STSBA align with new proposed concentrations in the BA degree.

- Removes Science and Technology elective course at 300 or 400 level (3 credits)
- Adds three credits to the STS Specialty to increase it to 15 credits

Impact on Students

Current students in the major will not be affected by the revision. They can continue under the old curriculum. New students in the major will take the same number of credit hours in the program as before.

Once concentrations are in place, some of the confusion and difficulty associated with the Self Design origins of the major will be reduced for advisors and for students.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Dr. Carolyn R. Miller, Director
Professional Writing Certificate Program
Department of English

FROM: Murray S. Downs, Associate Provost MSD

SUBJECT: Professional Writing Certificate Program

I am pleased to approve the attached draft description of Professional Writing Certificate Program. This approval reflects the culmination of a discussion that began with your memorandum of June 5, 1986, and incorporates the revisions necessary to bring the program into compliance with the University's Guidelines on Nondegree Certificate Programs (July, 1984).

Please proceed as soon as feasible to revise the certificate to be awarded so that it, too, will comply with the guidelines, and please share a draft with this office before the revised certificate is printed.

ATTACHMENTS: UNIVERSITY UNDERGRADUATE CERTIFICATE FORM PROPOSAL FOR UNDERGRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN PROFESSIONAL WRITING

1. Statement of Justification for Program

The English Department's Communication in the Workplace studies from the years of 1996-2018 have demonstrated consistently that writing skills are crucial to workplace success and advancement. While most students gain useful training through advanced writing requirements in their majors, one or two writing courses often is not enough to learn and practice techniques for successful writing and editing on the job. Employees often seek out additional writing instruction after completing their undergraduate degrees.

In order to meet this demand, the Department of English proposes to reinstate an undergraduate certificate program in Professional Writing that has long been tailored to non-degree-seeking (NDS) students looking to strengthen their skills in writing, editing, and document design for professional contexts. It emphasizes clear and accurate writing, editorial skills such as proofing and revising, and basic techniques needed for publication in professional contexts.

To provide history, we seek to re-establish an undergraduate certificate program that predates the official standardization of certificate programs at NC State and has over time fallen out of approval status. In 1980, Provost Nash N. Winstead first approved our undergraduate certificate on an "experimental basis." After a 2-year review period in 1982 the UCCC recommended a 2-year extension to the program's experimental status because NC State was planning a standardization of all Undergraduate Certificate programs. In 1987 Associate Provost Murray S. Downs officially approved our Undergraduate Certificate Program in Professional Writing after revisions to bring it into compliance with new guidelines (see Attachment, 1987 approval form).

Since the late 1980's, the Department of English has enrolled NDS students in courses associated with our program and has recognized many students as having met the requirements of our certificate; however, we have learned that the university no longer formally recognizes our program on its list of certificate programs. The goal of this proposal is thus to reinstate an already-functioning program for which we know there is demand. Currently, 13 non-degree-seeking students are actively taking courses associated with our Professional Writing Certificate, and 39 students have filled out an interest form to begin the enrollment process.

The demand for improving communication skills on the job is steady and unmet by existing programs. The program provides members of the public access to extensive technological resources of NC State to improve their written communication skills, including our libraries, data visualization labs, and software programs. The program further increases the public's direct access to experts in journalism, technical and professional writing, creative writing, and rhetoric and allows for sustained contact and learning experiences. Finally, the program introduces working professionals to additional degree avenues at NC State and has become a recruiting tool for bringing students into our Masters of Science degree program in technical communication.

2. Statement of Program Objectives/Outcomes

Students who earn the Undergraduate Certificate in Professional Writing will:

- Identify fundamental techniques and strategies for successful editing and document design practices
- Design and practice effective written communication appropriate for workplace contexts
- Apply written communication knowledge and design skills to the domains of journalism, technical communication, or creative writing

3. Proposed Revision(s) with Reasons

 - b. A grade of C- or better in all courses used to satisfy the certificate requirement
 - c. An overall GPA of 2.0 or better for all courses used to satisfy the certificate requirements.

5. Catalog Description of Proposed Certificate

The undergraduate certificate program in Professional Writing is for non-degree-seeking students who wish to sharpen their publication skills and master the fundamentals of editing and writing for the workplace. The two required courses in editing and technical document design address editing, revision, planning, drafting, and designing documents for publication. Students choose three additional elective courses for the program based on their interests, and may focus their elective courses in journalism, technical writing, or creative writing.

6. Number of Certificate Recipients in the Past Five Years: N/A

7. Projected Enrollment

We expect around 65 students to enroll in the Professional Writing certificate over a five-year period. As stated above, 13 NDS students are actively pursuing courses in Professional Writing in the 2019/2020 academic year, and 39 have expressed interest in taking courses through an online enrollment form. Because there is no time limit to complete the certificate and students pursue coursework as is convenient, we project the enrollment to remain stable.

8. Admissions Requirements

Applicants must have completed the first year of college English or equivalent (credit, transfer credit, or credit by exam). Applicants must be enrolled as Non-Degree Studies (NDS) students and should not be concurrently seeking a degree at NCSU during the time of certificate courses. Applicants must submit an online form to the director of Professional Writing to begin the process of enrollment, and should be enrolled as NDS students by the deadline for NDS course registration.

9. Statement on Other Departments/Programs Likely to be Affected and Summary of Consultations:

No other programs are likely to be negatively affected. While there are related programs at NC State, each has a different audience and set of offerings. The Graduate School's Writing Certificate is similar in its interest in fostering writing skills needed for disciplinary and professional success. However, this program is directed at current graduate students and postdocs. We consulted with Assistant Dean Laura Demarse from the Graduate School who offered her support for our proposed certificate. Similarly, the certificate in Professional Communication and Managerial Skills offered by the Communication Department is directed to a graduate-level audience and focuses specifically at the intersections of management and communication, with very different course offerings. We consulted with Professor Melissa Johnson from the Department of Communication who offered her support for our proposed certificate. Finally, the McKimmon Center's Certificate in Professional Development includes some instruction on writing practices, but their short seminar courses differ significantly in content and format from what we have proposed. We consulted with Andy Billingsley, Manager for Customized Contractual Education, who agreed that our programs target different audiences.

Hi, Stacey,

I do not see this program conflicting with the Graduate Certificate in Professional Communication and Managerial Skills, as the target audience for that certificate is students who already hold a bachelor's degree, and your program is aimed at undergraduates.

However, I appreciated hearing about your program, as I am also the coordinator for our undergraduate public relations concentration. It appears that your certificate would be a great "add-on" for public relations majors who wish to expand their proficiency in various forms of writing. (As you know, PR students are already required to take one of your journalism classes.) This would not apply to all of our PR students, as they have a variety of interests, but it might attract some. When you are ready to promote it, send me a flyer and I'll post it on my office door.

I am copying Jessica Jameson, our department head, just so she is aware of this.

Don't hesitate to let me know if you need additional information from me.

Best,

Melissa

to Stacey, me

Stacey,

Thank you for the update.

It is great timing to discuss this...first of all we are looking at two different audiences to offer these programs.

Let's find some time to discuss and see what we can do to have offerings to our two audiences.

Thanks again!

Subject: Revision of the History BA and BS requirements
Date: 2 March 2020

The Department of History seeks approval to revise the BA and BS in History to include History of Art (HA) courses as "Departmental Electives" and "Departmental Advanced Electives" within the major requirements.

Justification:

The exclusion of HA courses from History degree plans is a hold-over from the creation of degree plans several decades ago. History of Art is properly a field of history, and it is taught by Teaching Faculty of the Department of History. Course learning outcomes for the HA offerings are suitable for the History program objectives and outcomes.
