I. Sub-Committee Meetings

- Attendance was too low to effectively meet in sub-committees today. Rob will e-mail members to make sure they meet before the last meeting (April 8) to produce a report on activity. Sub-committee reports will be folded into the final end of year CIP report.
- An availability poll will be distributed with the minutes to determine meeting date and time preferences. The committee needs increased attendance to accomplish goals.

II. Jackson Rigney Award selection

- Award criteria and nominee profiles were reviewed. This year's nominees are: Art Rice, Roberto Nunez, and Ruie Pritchard.
- Discussion:
 - Breadth vs. depth of international service (Example of Ruie having accomplishments across a variety of areas including teaching, research, public service, study abroad, etc. or Art's nomination focusing on implementing the Prague Institute and requiring study abroad in the College of Design.)
 - Impact on students - amount of students and type of student impact varies widely among all three nominees
 - Going above and beyond regular job duties
 - Length of service/time spent at NC State (Art Rice/24 yrs, Roberto Nunez/15 yrs, Ruie Pritchard/34 yrs)
- A poll for members to vote on their choice for the Jackson Rigney award winner was sent via e-mail to give all members an opportunity to vote. The nominee with a majority of votes will be determined the 2015 award recipient.

III. Presentation of college inventories and generation study abroad efforts

- Rob presented efforts the Poole College of Management has made towards Generation Study Abroad goals. Members were asked to prepare similar information from their own colleges. Key information to obtain includes current study abroad participation (distributed by the Study Abroad Office at the February meeting), calculating what study abroad participation looks like with Generation Study Abroad Goals, and determining strategies for how colleges can work towards those goals.

IV. Co-Chair Position announcement

- Maria Correa has agreed to be next year's co-chair (2015-2016) and will be chair during the 2016-2017 academic year.

Meeting adjourned at 12:00pm.
